Website updates!

From my website at <https://dgrunwell.com/> visitors can purchase my novels directly from me through my new ecommerce site <https://dgrunwell.square.site/hosted> by Square.

Independent publishers and authors pay a large portion of the price of the book for being on the big sites, sometimes as much as 70%. The more we go directly to the source creators, the more novelists can afford to write more great novels and that keeps new and fresh voices building the worlds we love.

I am slowly digging into my newest novel Before the Fall book three in the science fiction series The Newcastle Saga. It is a prequel detailing the events that lead to The Fall of Heaven. The biggest issues I am facing is that events in the book are almost butting up against what is going on in the world right now, and frankly, the war in Ukraine was unexpected and has had to make me reevaluate the roots of space colonization to sound plausible.

Until then, if you want to read some of my 1.6k online pontificating answers, check out my Quora work at <https://www.quora.com/profile/David-Grunwell>. Join 2.4 million who have read my stuff since I joined in 2017 and the 98K this month who still haven't voted me off the site. I sometimes worry about them and their judgement.

If you don't know what Quora.com is, well, I am sorry to introduce you to what amounts to a 24/7 online crack den for those who love to read and answer questions on almost any topic.

Until then, I am still trying to figure out if writing is a gift or an ailment.
